LETCHER COUNTY.

WHITESBURG, KY., Jan. 6.—The town of Whitesburg was a fever of much excitement Friday and Saturday of last week owing to the appearance of a lawless assembly which attempted to take the work of the Fiscal Court and its records in their hands, causing apparent bloodshed for a time and the immediate calling out of the Whitesburg Company National Guards by former county Judge John D. Fitzpatrick, who was making a desperate effort, together with the Magistrates of the county, to close the county's finances and make settlement with sheriff Louis Cook.

As a result of the calling out of the National Guard under command of Capt. Charles H. Back and Major John A. Webb, of the tenth battalion, warrants were issued for the immediate arrest of seven of the most prominent and influential men in the county, including Commonwealth's Attorney R. Monroe Fields, Ex-Judge and Bank President Jas. P. Lewis, Deputy Sheriff W. E. Cook, and Magistrates Frank Potter, W. M. Hackworth, Thomas Bowens and H. K. Raleigh on charges of confederating, banding together, intimidation, etc.

The men were compelled to give a $2000 peace bond for their good behavior, also an appearance bond for their appearance before Police Judge John J. Wakefield Saturday. When the cases were called Saturday they were passed until Monday at two o'clock owing to the absence of two important witnesses.

At yesterday's session the cases were passed until today. In the meantime the excitement has abated and on orders from Gov. McCreary the National Guards were relieved Sunday morning. Bitter feeling between the two parties, democrats and republicans seems to have been the whole cause of the trouble.

PIKE COUNTY.

TUNNEL FOREMAN KILLS BOOKKEEPER.

George Miller, a tunnel foreman on the new C. C. and O. route through Breaks, shot and killed Justin Rogers, 23, bookkeeper, over the presence of a negro woman and child in the dining hall at the construction camps of the M. F. McArthur Co. just across the state line in Virginia, Monday morning at 5:30. It is said the presence of the negro woman and her infant child in the dining hall where a large number were taking breakfast was obnoxious on account of the condition of the child, and Miller called Rogers, who had charge of the commissary, and told him in violent language to throw the d—negro woman out. Rogers replied that she was just as much entitled to remain in the dining hall as anyone else, and then drew a large revolver and ordered everyone out. Miller refused to go. Rogers again ordered him out with a threat. Miller replied that he had better put the gun up before some one was accidentally hurt, and Rogers then trained the gun on Miller. The latter promptly drew a revolver and fired two shots which took effect in the head. He died a few hours later. Miller gave himself up to the authorities, and was accorded an examining trial in the afternoon, before Squire W. J. Cochran, at Mart, Va., at which he was acquitted.

Dr. L. F. Metzger, of Roncoverte, W. Va., Rogers' former home, arrived at Elkhorn City Tuesday, having been sent by the young man's parents to take charge of the body after they were notified of his untimely end. The body was brought to Pikeville Tuesday, and Miller also arrived here by the same train.

It is said this is Miller's third victim.

$10,000 DAMAGES.

Damages to the amount of $10,000 were awarded to Mrs. Nancy Justice, administratrix, by the jury in the Pike Circuit Court against the Caltletsburg Timber Co. Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Justice's husband, David Justice, was almost instantly killed on a tram car on Grapevine creek two years ago.

The case may be appealed.

SAAD GROCERY STORE CLOSED.

The Saad grocery store, owned by Sam and Jasper Saad and commonly called the best grocery store in Eastern Kentucky, was closed by sheriff under three separate orders of attachment Tuesday morning, drawn in favor of Hagen, Ratcliff & Co., $210; J. A. Bentley $200, and J. M. McConch, $3.73. The fruits and perishable property were sold under an order of sale Thursday. The remaining stock is worth approximately $7,000.

DAIRY AND COLD STORAGE.

James Hatcher, owner and manager of the Pike hotel, placed into the hands of a local firm Tuesday a contract for a cold storage plant to be installed in his new mercantile and flat building on Theater-st., to cost $4,000. He will also establish a dairy on his 3000 acre tract of land at level, in Floyd-co. From this he will ship his products for distribution and cold storage to Pikeville by rail each morning.

The dairy and cold storage will be ready for use by early summer.

PATTON SAYS FINISH BY JULY.

Sid Patton, conductor of a C. C. and O. work train which has been working on the new grade work through the Breaks, passed through Pikeville Tuesday on his way to Elkhorn City. Mr. Patton says he will begin laying track through the second tunnel at once (the track work from Elkhorn City having already been completed that far.) The tracking will then be finished on through the Breaks, and completed by July. This will connect Pikeville directly with the Clinch Valley line of the N. and W. in Virginia, and also furnish a connection with all southern points, giving a short passage between Chicago and the South Atlantic coast.

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE FOR STRANDED TROUPE.

The Proctor Players stranded at Pikeville last week owing to the fact that James Proctor of Columbus, O., manager, absconded with the receipts of the ten-days performance, owing the company three weeks salary.

In the face of an unpaid board bill and other adverse circumstances the players made the best of the situation and combined with another company that came later. Manager Sam Saad of the Imp theater very generously turned his theater over to them Monday evening, and both companies combined and gave a most pleasing production of the late Broadway hit, "Bought and Paid For."

The standard company acknowledged in glowing terms the generosity of the manager of the Imp and of all the people of Pikeville, and a warm response was indicated by the capacity audience which filled the theater Monday evening to witness the production of the famous play.

A CORRECTION.

Your correspondent erroneously stated in these columns last week that the evangelistic meetings would open in the M. E. Church, South, on the 11th of January. The meetings will really open in the First Methodist church on that date. The correction is through the courtesy of Rev. I. N. Fannin of the Southern Methodist church.

This series of meetings will begin Sunday night under the direction of Rev. W. J. Stith, of Ada, O., assisted by all the pastors and prominent religious workers of Pikeville. Trained singers, a choir director and pianist will also aid Mr. Stith. This will be the greatest revival that Pikeville has known for many years past, and the city has already been organized to receive and aid them. Booster clubs were organized last week and assigned to different territories of the city to prepare the way and arouse the public interest. All the churches of Pikeville will unite to aid in the non-partisan revival crusade, and as it is expected that the church building will not accommodate the gathering after the first few days, arrangements have been made to move to the large and spacious court room.

HOLINESS MEETING CLOSED SUNDAY.

The Holiness revival which had been in progress for ten days, under the able leadership of William Deal and corps of assistants of Ashland, closed at the First Methodist church Sunday night. Large crowds were in attendance every night, and Mr. Deal delivered a powerful scriptural argument with every sermon, although he was suffering from an annoying cold in the throat.

During his discourses Mr. Deal taught beautiful lessons of truth, honesty and righteousness, and the honesty of his own soul carried conviction with every word.

Mr. Deal came to Pikeville with his mission workers in December, and it was his intention to defray the entire expenses of the enterprise out of his own pocket, he being a successful traveling salesman for the Belknap Hardware Co., of Louisville; but the people of Pikeville would not hear of it, and contributed liberally toward meeting the expenses of the enterprise. Mr. Deal was so deeply impressed with this voluntary assistance, and especially with the interest which the business men took in his meetings that he thought of returning to Pikeville in the coming summer, bringing with him a much larger corps of assistants and a tent for the meetings, which will hold one thousand people. Wishing to know whether this would be acceptable, he asked all those at the Sunday night service who would like to see him return next summer to stand.

Not one in that packed audience out rose to their feet.

And so Mr. Deal will return, according to his promise.

LANGLEY GETS EVEN.

James Hatcher, manager of the Pike hotel, is worried. He admits that he no longer has anything on congressman John W. Langley.

It will be recalled that Mr. Hatcher came into possession of Mr. Langley's Thanksgiving turkey one fine morning just before Thanksgiving while the bird was hanging high by a string in Mr. Langley's portico and its owner was sleeping.

All the same Mr. Langley and family took Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. Hatcher at the hotel.

Last Friday, some time between midnight and dawn, a beautiful ham and some bacon disappeared from the kitchen of the hotel.

Whether this is a retaliation or not, Mr. Langley wore a broad smile the next day, which eloquently expressed his very great satisfaction at Mr. Hatcher's discomfiture.

BREEZE & ZEPHYR.

OVERDA.

Death has visited our community and took from us our beloved sister, Permelia Adams. She was born May 1, 1863, died Dec. 17th, 1913, aged 51 years, 7 months and 16 days. She was married first to Frank Wellman, deceased. To them 4 children were born, two of them dying in infancy and 2 living. Her second marriage was to Leander Adams, to this union was born 3 children, 2 living and one dead. She was converted when quite young, at the age of 17, and she has lived a christian ever since. She took sick with la grippe and then pneumonia. She lived only about 4 weeks after taking sick. She bore her sickness with christian patience. She told all her children and friends she was never going to get well. And would tell them to meet her in heaven. She died praising the Lord. She told them she wanted sabbath school carried on at Oak Hill this summer. The writer heard her say that she never missed but two Sunday's during the entire summer at Oak Hill Sabbath school. She will be greatly missed in our school and at church where she was such a faithful worker.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Fraley and Rev. Harvey at the Oak Hill church. The remains were then laid to rest in the Adams cemetery beside her little babe to awake no more till the resurrection morn.

We would say to the bereaved husband and children to not weep as those who have no hope. We just say to the children only prepare to meet mama for you will know where to find her.

A voice from us is gone, a place is vacant in our home that never can be filled. A FRIEND.

Suffered with Throat Trouble.

Mr. Barnes used to be sheriff of Warren County, Tennessee. From exposure to the elements he acquired throat trouble. He supposed that his health was entirely ruined, in spite of all the treatment he could procure.

After using four bottles of Peruna he claims that MR. B. W. D. BARNES, he was entirely restored to health.

Cure of the throat is not only an annoying disease of itself, but it exposes the victim to many other diseases. We are constantly breathing into our throats numerous atmospheric germs. Disease germs of all kinds. This cannot be avoided. If the throat is healthy the system is protected from these poisonous germs. But if the throat is raw and punctured with numerous little ulcers, by catarrh, then the disease germs have easy access to the system.

Keep the throat well and clean. This is the way to protect yourself against contagious diseases. Gargle the throat as explained in the "Bottle of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Barnes says: "I had throat trouble and had three doctors treating me. All failed to do me any good, and pronounced my health gone. I concluded to try Peruna, and after using four bottles can say I was entirely cured."
